23rd International Congress

Atd:
attention to details!

The 23rd SIdP International Congress, “ATD: Attention to Details!”, is founded on a central concept in periodontal and implant therapy: very often, the difference between a good outcome and an outstanding one lies in the ability to observe, recognize, and act upon the details that truly matter.

Diagnostic, biological, technical, and interpersonal details may appear minor, yet they profoundly influence the quality, stability, and predictability of our treatments. This Congress will focus on this crucial dimension of clinical practice: a critical and conscious attention to the factors that genuinely make a difference in patient care, integrating scientific evidence, clinical experience, innovation, and treatment sustainability.

The meeting will be preceded by pre-congress courses dedicated to teamwork, with particular emphasis on bone augmentation planning, live surgery, and motivational counseling techniques, highlighting how both technical and interpersonal details are integral components of therapeutic success.

The two main educational tracks, “Evidence in Excellence” and “Effectiveness in Sustainability”, will explore the role of details in regenerative, mucogingival, and implant surgical procedures, as well as in the management of complex cases of advanced periodontitis. Scientific evidence, technological innovation, and their application in everyday clinical practice will be seamlessly integrated throughout the program.

The scientific program will be complemented by Saturday afternoon Training Camps and “Learning from the Experts” sessions, specifically designed for dental students, dentists, and dental hygienists.

These highly practical sessions will focus on clinical tips and tricks, complication management, instrumentation of challenging sites, and peri-implant soft tissue management.

“Less is More” also means recognizing, preserving, and enhancing the details that truly matter.

How to get to Rimini

- By plane The nearest airport is Federico Fellini International Airport (RMI) in Rimini. However, Rimini is also accessible from nearby airport in Bologna (Guglielmo Marconi Airport) which is approximately 100 km from Rimini by motorway.
- Bologna International Airport has daily connections with all the major Italian, European, and International cities throughout the world and is served by all the major airlines. A shuttle bus service operates between Bologna's International Airport and the city of Rimini: Shuttle Italy Airport Guglielmo Marconi International Airport is located just a few minutes from the main railway station Stazione Centrale served by taxi and train. You can get a taxi from the airport on the ground floor, just outside the door of the landing area (the cost of a taxi from the airport to Stazione Centrale in Bologna is about 20/30€). You can get "People mover" the brand-new high-speed train that takes only 7 minutes to arrive at Stazione Centrale train station. A train every 7 minutes. The price of a single ticket is 12,80€ (one way) or 23,3€ (return).*
- The average train time from Bologna Stazione Centrale to Rimini is 1h 4m, although it takes just 53m on the fastest high-speed Frecciarossa and Frecciargento services.*
- By train A good railway network connects Rimini to the rest of Italy. As above, you can easily reach Bologna in an hour, and by highspeed connections, Milan in 2 hours, Florence in 2,30 hours and Rome in less than 4.
- By car Rimini is well connected with the rest of Italy, thanks to a very good motorway network. The city is positioned along the A14 motorway which connects it to Bologna and Milan going North and to Bari going South.
